

Why UDL?

The goal of Universal Design for Learning is to foster learner agency; individual and collective learning that is purposeful & reflective, resourceful & authentic, strategic & action-oriented.

Affective Networks

Alt Text: Illustration of the human brain with the affective regions outlined in green.

We are developing as learners who are

Purposeful and Reflective.

The "WHY"
of Learning

Multiple Means of Engagement gives us a variety of opportunities to feel connected and involved as learners.

Recognition Networks

Alt Text: Illustration of the human brain with the recognition regions highlighted in purple.

We are developing as learners who are

Resourceful and Authentic.

The "WHAT"
of Learning

Multiple Means of Representation gives us many ways to understand information and concepts.

Strategic Networks

Alt Text: Illustration of the human brain with the strategic regions highlighted in blue.

We are developing as learners who are

Strategic
and Action-Oriented.

The "HOW"
of Learning

Multiple Means of Action & Expression gives us a variety of ways to navigate and express what we are learning.